

Do You Have What it Takes?

Canadian Red Cross is Recruiting Disaster Management Volunteers in Southern Alberta.

Setting up shelters for stranded motorists, helping a family left homeless after a devastating fire, the ongoing response to flooding in the south and fires in the north; what do they all have in common? Canadian Red Cross disaster management volunteers from Lethbridge and area were on scene helping at each of these events. In order to continue to serve the Southern Alberta community, the Canadian Red Cross is recruiting disaster management volunteers.

If you are interested in volunteering, please attend our free information session on February 9 from 7-8pm at the Canadian Red Cross office in Lethbridge (335 Columbia Blvd W). Interested individuals do not need to register. Refreshments will be provided. If you want to help your friends and neighbours in Southern Alberta, and you have what it takes to be a Red Cross volunteers, we encourage you to join our movement and experience the Power of Humanity.

For more information, contact

Natasha Fairweather

Coordinator, Community Development
Disaster Management

Canadian Red Cross | Croix-Rouge canadienne
335 Columbia Blvd. W
| Lethbridge | Alberta | | T1K 5Y8
Natasha.Fairweather@redcross.ca
T (403) 327-7117 | (403) 894-0124 | F (403)327-1722
www.redcross.ca | www.croixrouge.ca